Child Care Training Compliance Status Notification

Date: 10/16/2021

Dear Makayla Lemmon,

You were unsuccessful in passing the competency exam for (Understanding Developmentally Appropriate Practices (UDAP)) on (10/16/2021). Successful completion of this exam is required towards compliance of the Department of Children and Families child care training requirement.

Below is a list of modules within the (Understanding Developmentally Appropriate Practices (UDAP)) training course that represent exam questions from those modules that contributed to your final score. These are the modules that we encourage you to review more thoroughly in your course notes and the information available in the department's Participant Guide for (Understanding Developmentally Appropriate Practices (UDAP)) in the event that you re-take this exam.

-- Module 1: What is Developmentally Appropriate Practices and how does it apply to young children?
-- Module 2: Why is Developmentally Appropriate Practice important?
-- Module 3: Who does Developmentally Appropriate Practice Impact?
-- Module 4: When is Developmentally Appropriate Practice Appropriate?
-- Module 5: Where should we see Developmentally Appropriate Practice in action?

If you attempted this exam following the completion of a department-approved instructor-led training course or online course at www.myflorida.com/childcare, you may re-take the exam as many times as necessary to achieve a passing score. However, there is a fee each time you take an exam.

If you attempted this exam and did not complete a department-approved instructor led or online course at www.myflorida.com/childcare for (Understanding Developmentally Appropriate Practices (UDAP)), you are required to complete the (Understanding Developmentally Appropriate Practices (UDAP)) course. An instructor-led course for (Understanding Developmentally Appropriate Practices (UDAP)) is offered by a local Child Care Training Coordinating Agency (TCA) contracted with the department. A listing of Child Care Training Coordinating Agencies (TCA) is available at www.myflorida.com/childcare. Once you complete the course, you may re-take the exam as many times as necessary to achieve a passing score.
